I have obtained copies of these photos from many people so this is a collaborative effort. I have collected them over many many years. They are digitized and I will gladly sent you a flash drive of the collection. I have many more photos then in this document. I welcome new additions to the collections. Please send me what you have. Many people are missing a good representation.

I have 3 group sections you might want to be sure and check out (pages 49 (Lorenzo), 55 (Hiram), 68 (Isaac)) as well as the Unknown photos (page 72). Also let me know if you can identify some of the unknown in the photo.

I can not verify the accuracy of all photo IDs. Please send me any corrections or additions to martino@pobox.com. I make spelling mistakes so please check that. I have done photo corrections, cropping and some sharpening. For an additional step I used a tool in MyHeritage for final face sharpening enhancements which is especially good on the web. But it can overcorrect and look a little rubbery. If I have done this final enhancement, the collection will have 2 copies of the photo —before and after.

Organizationally, I usually listed the children in a family group's in order of birth. Occasionally for efficient use of space on a page I have altered the order. Groups are labeled left to right and back row to front row.

A little something about my genealogy journey. I was 28 when my Dad died and although I had made a tree as a teen, he was not alive when I got serious about this. I knew my great-grandparents Hiram and Mary Ellen Hunt Williams moved from Canada to Michigan and founded the family farm of 3 generations. I assumed they were alone. As I worked on the family tree, I found that Hiram Williams had 4 siblings who moved to the area prior to him and Mary Ellen Hunt Williams had 2 brothers. Three siblings of Hiram remained in Canada. The children of those 8 siblings would move back and forth between Canada and Michigan.

Two of the cousins of the 8 siblings Cora Green Fosset who lived in Duluth MN and Abigail (Abbie) Williams Johnson in Mayville MI appear in many photos and were active in keeping the families connected. The deep purple double lilac bush at the Vassar family farm and Mayville cemetery came from Cora in Duluth. We had one at our house too.

Many years ago I wanted to see if any descents still lived in Bayham Canada. I had found the Claus cemetery where Isaac and Mary Williams were buried. I found a grave for a Bruce Williams from the 60s which seemed reasonably current. So I put an ad in the small local weekly paper. To my pleasant surprise someone answered. Stan Williams and I started a correspondence. Through a copy of my work to date he realized he had a 3rd cousin in a nearby town and introduced himself. Eventually I traveled to Canada to visit many of the cousins there and Stan made a trip to MI where we had a little mini-reunion.

But there are two mysteries I have not been able to solve. A book with local biographies has one for my Great-grandfather Hiram. He says his father "Isaac was a social agitator all his life". But I have found no record or any thing that explains that comment. A cousin of mine though feels we hard headed Williams come by that naturally.

The second is who was Mary Claus Williams mother? Her father was Johan Georg Claus. We suspected that, but it was not proven through records as she was not in his will, until my DNA test showed a connection to 3 of Johan Georg Claus's children. But why did she have his last name and not be in his will? Usually illegitimate babies took their mother's name. The wife he had when he died was Margaret ? Casselman, a widow of another Butler Loyalist. It is not clear if she was a widow in time to marry Johan and be Mary's mother plus her age means it was possible but not real likely

Isaac Williams Sr. & Mary Claus

Descendants of Isaac Williams Sr. near Bayham Canada have this drawing they believe is Isaac. Others believe the photo below is Isaac and Mary. Are they the same man? I have not seen the actual photo below but it is not a Dugertype or Tintype photo—the most common photos that were made before Isaac died in 1868. But I do not know what paper it is printed on or tried to date it.

Isaac and Mary Claus Williams homestead. Although much of the house has been rebuilt, the beams between the basement and 1st floor are believed to be original.
